Cummings Properties announces new appointment for Woburn's Greg Ahearn

WOBURN MA, September 21, 2011 –Cummings Properties has announced the appointment of longtime Woburn resident Greg Ahearn to the position of vice president of field operations. The position was previously held by another Woburn native Bob Venezia, a Woburn Memorial High School graduate who retired in 2007 after 28 years with the full-service commercial real estate, property management, and construction firm.

Ahearn, who has been with the Woburn-based company for 19 years, had been serving as general field manager, overseeing more than 200 full-time mechanics, maintenance technicians, and construction workers of all types.

Cummings Properties, which leases 10 million square feet of prime commercial space, has been a Woburn fixture for more than 40 years. Among its largest and most well known properties are TradeCenter 128 and the Cummings Park business campus on Washington Street.

A graduate of Woburn Memorial High School and U.S. Army veteran, Ahearn began his career with Cummings Properties in 1992, as a plumber. He quickly distinguished himself within the Company, accepting his first team leader assignment just three years into his tenure. After successfully leading both plumbing and grounds crews, Ahearn received successive promotions to senior team leader, associate division manager at Cummings Center in Beverly, and then associate general manager.

Since 2007, when he assumed the role of general field manager, Ahearn has been responsible for all field activities, company-wide. That same year, he began serving as a member of the Company's Executive Committee.

"Greg's advancement within Cummings Properties reflects his immeasurable contributions, which he has produced through his individual talent, experience, leadership, character, and dedication," said President and CEO Dennis Clarke.

As a Woburn resident, Ahearn has served on the Goodyear School Building Committee, and on the Woburn Public Media board. He and his wife Kris, married for 23 years, have two sons, Ethan, who attends Woburn Memorial High School, and Kyle, a sophomore at the University of Vermont.

"It has been a great experience, growing my career with Cummings Properties," Ahearn said. "The company is all about helping everyone achieve their maximum potential. I know they will continue to do that, and continue to recognize the significant contributions of the entire field staff.”
